JUSTIFIES ACTION IN LENGTHY ADDRESS TO JOINT CONGRESS SESSION

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 22.—A nervous and unruly congress today awaited President Roosevelt's veto message on the Patman bonus bill.

After that will come the final showdown on legislation to pay the soldiers with a new issue of currency.

House leaders concede that in this chamber there will be sufficient votes for the necessary two-thirds majority to override the president.

In the senate, a matter of two votes or very few more will decide the issue. Latest polls indicated that here, Mr. Roosevelt will be sustained and the bonus bill killed.

Sitting in joint session, the two houses will assemble at 12:30 p. m. to hear the chief executive reject the Patman bill in what he has already announced will be "the most emphatic language at my command."

Russian Engineer Inspects Plant Here

In the United States on a tour of inspection of industries P. Stepin, an engineer of the Gorky automobile plant, located 480 kilometers from Moscow, was a visitor at the National Radiator corporation plant today. With him was B. Schik, an interpreter of the Amtorg Trading corporation, of Detroit.

Mr. Stepin is here to gather ideas for his own line of work in the United States. He is highly interested in the highly perfected scheme of organization in American industry. Gradually Russian industry is learning this and is more and more employing American organization methods.

Building Fords
Mr. Stepin is connected with "Autostroy" which is the automotive division of Russian industry. In his plant they are manufacturing Model A Fords, but changes are now being made in the springs and steering gears and a new Model M-1 will soon be on the production line.

Tax Collection Bill In Balance

Bill To Reduce Number Of Tax Collectors In State Hangs In Mid-Air Today

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 22.—After one of the stormiest rides ever given a measure in the legislature, the Moomaw-Moran bill drafted originally to reduce the number of tax collectors in the state from 2600 to 113 hung in mid-air in the house today.

Unable to agree on amendments to the bill which now affects only Allegheny county, the house agreed to place the measure on the table where it will rest until the members decide what should be done with it.

Rep. Paul C. Moomaw, Franklin, one of the sponsors, was unable to obtain unanimous consent to effect motions restoring the bill to its original form in which its proponents say it will save the taxpayers $3,000,000 a year.

Would Ban Aid To Belligerents

Senate Foreign Relations Committee Promises Early Action On Measures

WOULD PROHIBIT WAR AID LOANS

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 22.—With all the world an armed camp, the senate foreign relations committee today promised early action on proposals to prohibit shipment of arms or extension of credit to belligerent nations.

These bans were proposed by Senators Nye (R) of North Dakota, and Clark (D) of Missouri, after their special committee conducted a long inquiry into the history of the munitions industry. They proposed one joint resolution, which would give the president power to proclaim an embargo on the export of arms, ammunition or other weapons of warfare to any nation engaged in war or threatening to go to war.

In a second resolution, the two senators would prohibit financial loans or credit to any foreign government or agency for the purchase of war materials in time of war. It further would give the president power to proclaim an embargo on such loans as any nation about to go to war.

A third resolution would give the president power to withhold passports from American citizens, who wished to travel in war zones or on the vessels of warring powers. Such a law in 1916 would have prevented the loss of American life in the sinking of the Lusitania by a German submarine.

House Passes New Tax Bills

Last Of $60,000,000 Compromise Tax-Relief Program Sent To Senate

GASOLINE AND CHECK TAX BILLS INCLUDED

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 22.—Clearing its calendar of the last of the bills in the $60,000,000 compromise tax-relief program, the House today approved and sent to the Senate the Stewart bill boosting the gasoline tax one cent a gallon. The vote was 114 to 74.

Only brief debate preceded the vote when Representative Harry E. Trout, Lancaster Republican, raised the question of whether or not the bill might be considered a diversion of motor funds for other than highway purposes. Such diversion would deprive the state of federal aid for roads.

Representative Frank W. Ruth, Berks, Democratic floor leader, declared the bill should not be construed as diversion. He explained it did not contemplate diverting funds now being raised by a tax on gasoline, but was an entirely new tax.

The Ruth bill taxing all checks two cents each then came up for a vote as a special order of business.

Together, the gasoline and check tax bills were designed to yield $17,000,000 for relief in the next year and a like amount for ordinary expenses of government in the year following.

Says Bonus Measure Is Class Legislation For A Minority

FINANCING PLAN IS NOT DESIRABLE

Says General Welfare Of Whole Nation Deserves First Consideration

By GEORGE R. HOLMES International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Less than 30 minutes after hearing President Roosevelt's message, disapproving the veterans' bonus bill, the House this afternoon voted to override the presidential veto.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—President Roosevelt vetoed the veterans' bonus bill today and then explained to a semi-hostile Congress his reasons for so doing.

His personal appearance before a joint session, under highly dramatic circumstances, blazed a new trail in presidential procedure.

Roosevelt said he could not approve paying off the bonus at this time because:

1. The veterans already have been granted generous benefits, through compensation, insurance, hospitalization, employment preference, etc.—benefits not accorded to other citizens.
2. It is class legislation for a minority.
3. The proposed method of financing—issuance of treasury notes—is unsound, and would work eventually to the disadvantage of the veterans themselves as well as to the country as a whole.
4. The debt is not due at this time, the contract calling for payment in 1945.
5. The general welfare of the whole people deserves prior consideration to the claims of the veterans.
6. Cash payment at this time (Continued On Page Two)

Criticism Of Wage Scales Is Considered

Criticism Must Be Specific And Not General, Says President

VERBAL APPROVAL GIVEN ALLOTMENTS

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 22.—President Roosevelt is not greatly impressed by the howls of criticism that have gone up in Congress and in organized labor circles over the $19-to-$94 wage scales set up under the work relief program.

This criticism, he said at his press conference today, must be specific rather than general in order to be valid. Local conditions must be taken into account in all instances, he emphasized.

The President announced he had given verbal approval to all allotments recommended thus far by the advisory committee on allotments, and said a series of conferences, designed to determine the amounts to be allotted states for small projects after mandatory funds had been set aside, had been started.

This procedure will take about six weeks, he said.

That's the time I'm just a youngster, and I park my dignity, when the callopie starts tooting with a tweedle-tweedle twee. I like the blue and color, and I like the ballyhoo and I rather have the feeling that the same applies to you. Buy some peanuts, feed the monkeys, whistle with the circus band, it's a day for fun and frolic, it's a sport that's more than grand. MINER'S PROBLEMS ARE GIVEN STUDY

(International News Service)
BELLAIRE, O., May 22.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt today had first-hand knowledge of what a coal mine is all about.
Wearing a peaked cap shading her eyes and accompanied by dignitaries, miners and a host of admirers she penetrated the depths of the Willow Grove mine here, watched miners loading coal and discussed with them their problems which have been of interest to her for years.
Mrs. Roosevelt declined to don a proffered overalls and laughingly said she would "sacrifice her dress" but when she emerged from the mine the dress was clean and so were her face and hands.
The "First Lady" talked with old and young miners. She said she wanted to understand "people and their environment and the only way to do that was by obtaining first-hand knowledge."

Y. W. C. A. NAMES NINE DIRECTORS

board of directors, presided throughout the short business meeting. She expressed her satisfaction at the interest in the association shown by the crowd of women who were willing to meet for the purpose of hearing reports. She introduced Dr. Mildred Rogers, membership chairman, who announced the new total of 908 paid and pledged members, the largest number since the year the Y. W. C. A. was organized in New Castle. Last year's membership, a record at the time, totaled 671.
Mrs. James Rhodes, chairman of education, announced that 285 students are enrolled in the educational classes sponsored by the committee. She spoke of the three evening tennis classes, those in games and dancing, the nightly English classes, those in sewing and hygiene at the Elm street center, the mandolin and chorus instruction, and numerous other projects in which this committee has been interested.

To Launch Camp Season.
Mrs. Robert Eckles, chairman of camp, was "very happy to say that the good ship Camp East Brook, with Marguerite White as captain and Miss Marian Wilson as first mate, is ready to be launched for the longest voyage in years." She explained that the camp is self-supporting, and that girls are taken care of at a very low price, sufficient only to take care of the cost of their food and upkeep of the camp. She spoke of the splendid concrete swimming pool built several years ago, and of a pump being constructed in the upper well this year.

"We have been having an increased demand for accommodations at the camp and so have decided to extend the period to two months this summer, longer than any previous summer. Camp East Brook affords a wonderful opportunity to give daughters good, healthy, supervised camp life at a very low cost," Mrs. Eckles concluded.

Mrs. John E. Elliott, in giving a resume of the Y. W. C. A. financial situation, stated that the association "owes nobody anything," news that was received enthusiastically by the assembly.

Tells of Elm St. Work.
Mrs. Hannah Braswell gave an excellent report of work being done at the Elm street Y. W. C. A. for colored people. She spoke of the splendid fellowship being promoted in the Girl Reserve club and the organizations for business and working and unemployed girls and of the young married women's club, the educational classes, etc. She concluded by saying that the Y. W. C. A. has been carrying on a splendid program of creating a better interracial understanding and that if it did nothing more, that program alone would justify its existence.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lash, also of the Elm street branch, and a government class teacher, added her praise of the work being done at that branch by its executive secretary, Miss Rosa Brown.

A brief discussion of the purpose of the Y. W. C. A. followed, in which Mrs. Alice Elder McKillop, a former general secretary of the association, offered some interesting remarks.
The members were invited to the auditorium where a program of music by the mandolin club, directed by Mrs. S. J. Callahan, and the Y. W. C. A. chorus, directed by Miss Ethel Denniston, was presented.

A playlet, in charge of Mrs. DeLace Cole, directed by Miss Elizabeth McKillop, and with the following board of directors in the cast, created much laughter: Mrs. C. R. Ralph, Mrs. Elder Bryan, Mrs. John Byers, Mrs. DeLace Cole, Mrs. Robert Eckles, Mrs. John Elliott, Mrs. E. Fankhauser, Mrs. Roy Long, Mrs. Charles Metzler, Mrs. James Rhodes, Miss Emily Rice, Miss Alice Sterling, Miss Margaret Williams and Raymond Williams.
Concluding the meeting was the report from the tellers, read by Miss Emily Rice, giving the result of the election for board members and nominating committee members. The tellers were headed by Mrs. Eva B. Failer, chairman, and members were Miss Rice, Mrs. Alice Rogers and Miss Lily Hartman.
The nominating committee had been comprised of Mrs. Earl Douglas, Mrs. Carl Paisley, Mrs. Monty Alley, Mrs. H. M. Kirk, Miss Mary Van Divort and Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser.

Because of a rule of the Y. W. C. A. which prevents board members from serving more than six consecutive terms, Miss Effie Butz and Mrs. William J. Caldwell were not eligible for re-election. Mrs. Fankhauser, during the meeting, expressed her appreciation for the splendid service these two women had given while members of the board.

JUSTIFIES ACTION IN ADDRESS TO CONGRESS

would mean an outright gift of $1,600,000,000 to the veterans, above the present value of their compensation certificates.
These were the principal reasons Mrs. Roosevelt advanced for disapproving the bill, and he entered into a detailed explanation of each item. A crowded chamber, from floor to galleries, heard his 5,000-word message, although many senators "cut" the joint session.
Carefully noting the hostility of Congress to his mission, the President prepared his message by asserting at the outset he did not question the good faith of Congress in enacting the legislation. His disapproval, he said, was in the same spirit.

Recounts What Has Been Done
He recounted at considerable length what the government already has done for the veterans, estimating the total cost of the benefits to date at $7,800,000,000. Payment of the certificates at this time, coupled with normal current and future expenditures for the veterans, would run the total bill up to $13,500,000,000 by 1945, he said, or a sum equal to more than three-fourths of the total cost of the war.

The Patman bill, he noted, set forth three principal reasons for cash payment of the veterans' certificates: (1) that it will increase the purchasing power of millions of citizens, (2) that it will provide relief for many in need, and (3) it will lighten the relief burden of cities, counties and states.
While it is undeniably true, he admitted, that payment would result in expansion of retail trade, retail business already is good, comparing favorably with pre-depression figures. The proposed issue of treasury notes would quickly return to the banks, he argued, and the banks already have ample credit facilities.

"Not Justified"
"The ultimate effect of this bill," he said, "will not be in the long run justify the expectations that have been raised by those who argue for it."
As for the relief angle, he asserted Congress has just appropriated $4,880,000,000 for relief purposes, and in this the veterans will share along with other citizens.
He quoted Senator Borah (R) of Idaho—who voted for the Patman bill—as saying that the best way of rehabilitating the veteran is to rehabilitate the country itself.
The President said he had some sympathy with the argument that civilians in war time enjoyed greater remuneration than the soldiers.
"That is true—bitterly true," he said, "but a recurrence of that type of war profiteering can and must be prevented in any future war."

LAWSON LITTLE WINS AGAIN IN AMATEUR MATCH

ST. ANNE'S-ON-SEA, May 22.—Swamping all opposition, W. Lawson Little, Jr., of California strode thru the British amateur golf championship with giant strides today, clinching his victory in the final round, 4 and 3 in their third round match.
The heavy-set Californian, seeking to retain his title against an impressive field, led a parade of American contestants, with T. Sufferin Tailor, Jr., of Piping Rock, Long Island, being the only Yankee casualty of the morning. He lost out to Eric Fiddian, veteran Britisher, 2 and 1.

CONGRESS PREPARES TO ACT ON BONUS VETO

of the message. There were indications of subsequent debate in the senate.
The stage for today's unique ceremonies was set at the last minute. Not until the senate cracked through a one-man filibuster by Senator Huey P. Long (D) of Louisiana, was a concurrent resolution permitting the two houses to sit in joint session and hear the president finally adopted.
Long held the floor about five hours, and then only lost it because he unwittingly gave it up by leaving the senate chamber after demanding a quorum call. While he was out Senator Connally (D) of Texas, stepped in, and the roll was called on the resolution for a joint session.
The vote was 44 to four. Senators Steiwer of Oregon, Dickinson of Iowa, and Schall of Minnesota, all Republicans, supporting the "no" vote of Louisiana's "Kingfish."
Mr. Roosevelt's scheduled personal appearance today brought charges of "stage-play" and "publicity stunt" from some supporters of the bonus legislation. Staunch administration supporters, on the other hand, denied these assertions, and termed the executive's unprecedented move one of courage and determination to meet issues squarely. No president has ever before personally delivered a veto.
The big house chamber will be packed to the walls for the ceremony. House members provided their families with printed tickets to the number of two, all they were allowed, and were besieged by an army of would-be spectators.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go
If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, drink a swallow of a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.
For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.
If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a tick, had taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.
It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

DOUBLE WEDDING AT NEW BEDFORD

An event of unusual interest took place at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, in the Hopewell Presbyterian church, in New Bedford, when Mary Irene Harry and Russell Dale Bailey, and Sara Ellen Swisher and Rev. Cecil C. Bailey were united in marriage at a double wedding ceremony. Rev. John Orr, Ph. D., professor of Bible at Westminster college, officiated with the ring ceremony which united the first young couple, while the second service was performed by the Rev. Charles N. Moore D. D., of Zelienople, who is an uncle of the two grooms.

The brides were dressed in white chignon gowns with hats fashioned in the same pattern. Each couple attended the other. Ushers were Messrs. Lloyd L. Bailey, of New Bedford; Harold Moore Bailey, of Bradford, Pa.; Floyd Harry, of Youngstown; and William Lawton, of Millvale, Pa.

Mrs. C. G. Lindner, of New Castle, played beautiful bridge melodies, and Miss Martha Swisher sang "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Lindner at the piano, and C. G. Lindner, with a violin obligato.

For the occasion, the church was beautifully decorated by Frank and Sam Shields. A large group of relatives and close friends was present. A reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Bailey, followed, with about fifty members of the immediate families and very near friends of the young people, as guests. Mrs. Bailey's aides in serving a delicious menu were Mrs. Bert Miller, of Lowellville, O.; Miss Florence Jones, of Youngstown; Mrs. Ora May Wallace, of New Bedford; Mrs. Floyd Harry, of Youngstown; Mrs. Mable Jaster, New Bedford; Mrs. Harold Bailey, Bradford, Pa.; and Miss Ethel Moore, of New Castle.

Mrs. Russell Bailey is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Johnston and a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harry, with whom she made her home. She is a graduate of Westminster college, and a teacher in the New Bedford school. Russell Bailey is a son of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Bailey, of New Bedford, and was graduated from Wooster college, and Harvard University. He is engaged as a landscape architect with the National Park service of Birmingham, Ala., to which place he and his bride will journey within the next few days to make their home.

Mrs. Cecil Bailey is the daughter of Ralph Swisher, of New Castle, and is a graduate of the New Castle high school. She has been employed by the Pennsylvania Power company. Rev. Bailey is a graduate of Muskingum college and Western Theological Seminary, and has accepted a call to the Presbyterian church of Middleport, O.

1919 KENSINGTON HAS WHITE ELEPHANT PARTY

One of the delightful parties of Tuesday evening was held in the home of Mrs. Julia McClelland on Vine street, when the 1919 Kensington enjoyed a "white elephant" affair.

The guests had fun exchanging these "castaways" after which they played various games, with the prizes falling to Mrs. L. Holloway of Buffalo, N. Y., who was a club guest, Mrs. C. McClelland and Mrs. M. J. Young. Mrs. M. Dressling favored the group with a piano solo, and Colleen Moore delighted her hearers with a vocal selection. Luncheon was served at the dining room table, effectively arranged with flowers and favors at each place made of gum drops in the form of Colonial bouquets. Aides were the hostess' daughter, Mrs. M. Dressling and Mrs. Clarence Miller.

On June 4 the next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Charles McClelland on Croton avenue.

M. S. S. Club
Miss Norma Geminiani charmingly entertained members of the M. S. S. club at her home on May 17. The hostess saw to it that the members had a very lovely time and later on in the evening, after business, they were served delicious refreshments. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Dorothy Micco, Friday, May 24.

DORCAS CLASS HAS PARTY FOR MOTHERS

Their mothers were honored in a downtown tearoom Tuesday evening by the members of the Dorcas class of the First Congregational church. The annual bouquet affair proved the nicest ever held by the class.

Mrs. Cecelia Hughes asked the grace and dinner was served at 7 o'clock. Miss Elizabeth Reese, as chairman of the evening, presided, and introduced the following speakers: Mrs. Thomas Gray, who gave the toast to the daughters, and Miss Hanna Richards, who gave the toast to the mothers.

The tables had been delightfully decorated in orchid, green, and white with lilacs used attractively. The mothers were presented with small potted plants as souvenirs of the occasion. Twenty-eight guests were present.

Games were played. A special prize was won by Mrs. I. Isaac.

JUNIOR B. P. W. HEARS CONVENTION REPORTS

Members of the Junior Business and Professional Women's Clubs met for their last dinner meeting of the season on Tuesday evening, at a tavern on North Mill street. The occasion was well attended, and the menu was served at 6 o'clock.

Miss Lucille Emery, presided over the business period, when reports were heard from the delegates who attended the B. P. W. convention at Philadelphia, May 16-19. Miss Gertrude McClelland spoke briefly, on the "round table" discussions conducted there, and of the benefits derived from talks; she touched on the theme of the convention, which dealt with Economic Security, and the connections with insurance, old age pensions, and other items.

Miss Isabelle Jones described some of her impressions, and gave an interesting account of the menus served, programs, charts, and how they were taken care of during their stay. She also gave a few points of the high spots regarding the speakers of the day and some of their selected subjects. Miss Emery gave a complete account of the Sunday morning "Emblem Breakfast," put on by the Norristown club. This was most impressive, and well planned. She described how the numerous tables were placed, seating about ten guests at one table, and presided over by a hostess from District Nine, the hostess group appointed for this purpose. Other remarks were heard from the other members, including Lois Beggins, Mary Whalen, Virginia Conover, Amelia Ruby and Wanda White, who made the trip. Their general views on their journey, the time they spent at New Castle until they returned, were most interesting.

It was voted the Junior B. P. W. club will donate ten dollars to the Y. W. C. A. for a campership to East Brook this summer. They will be responsible for another donation to the Girl Scouts, enabling one member of the Aikido scout group, which the local club is sponsoring, the privilege to attend Scout camp for the required period, during the summer.

The annual picnic outing to be held on Tuesday, June 4, by the girls, will take place at the B. P. W. Cottage at Lakewood, and the committee in charge includes Carrie White, chairman, Amelia Ruby and Marjorie Powell.

This will conclude all activities for the club members for the season, until September, when sessions will again be resumed.

Interesting Highlights On Federation Program Tuesday

An excellent speaking program, splendid reports of the year's work, election of new officers, and a most interesting illustrated lecture on the Law County Federation of Women's club conference Tuesday, in Epworth M. E. church.

Mrs. A. P. Treser, president, opened the morning session promptly at 10 o'clock, announcing that the meeting would begin with assembly singing of "Hail Pennsylvania." Mrs. L. Reed led the standing group, with Miss Barbara Schultz at the piano. Responsive reading of the litany followed, with Mrs. Laura Parker leading.

A bugle call by William Powell, a member of Troop F, preceded a Parade of Colors with the American flag carried by a group of three Girl Scout Eagles, Donna Jean Beall, Ruth and Beatrice Conner, and three Girl Scouts, Louise Shaffer, Jean Copeland and Donna Van Horn. Mrs. Charles Greer led in pledging allegiance to the flag and a verse of "America" was sung. Prominently displayed was Pennsylvania's own state flag which had been secured by Representative William Erie from the rotunda of the capitol at Harrisburg, for this occasion and a brief history of it was presented by Mrs. Ralph S. Reed.

First on the speaking program was M. D. Cohn, manager of a local theatre, who gave a splendid talk on "Children and the Movies." Mr. Cohn brought out, in a general way, the tremendous influence the movies have today, upon communities as a whole. He said that children's pictures are a very definite problem with movie producers, and that efforts are being made to raise the standard along this line.

Mr. Cohn believes that the theatre should be regarded as a community institution, strengthening his statement by saying that 15,000 people are reached, on an average, through one local theatre alone, weekly. 1700 children in New Castle saw "Sequoia" here recently, which is indicative of the appreciation of pictures worthwhile, for young people.

"Rehabilitation" was discussed by Miss Mable Lober, of the department Labor and Industry, the speaker telling of the work being done by this department to help those crippled in industry. There are 30 active cases being aided, at this time, in Lawrence county, and she cited three specific instances where concrete results have been obtained, the men being returned to profitable work. She said that the problem confronting the department of Labor and Industry is one of vocational guidance, after assistance has been given to recover physical fitness.

"That Fifty Cents" was the title of an informative talk by Mrs. J. B. Roessing, state chairman of finance, in which she explained where every penny goes of that amount of state dues paid by each member of the Federation.

Mrs. J. G. Chalfont, state chairman of organization, spoke of Federation Extension, presenting suggested changes in by-laws.

Among these were: (1) That name "executive board" be known hereafter, as "board of directors"; (2) That Central district be divided, as it is now too large for greatest efficiency; (3) Elimination of district department chairmen; (4) Continuation of non federated clubs in present status; (5) Majority federated clubs in communities. Mrs. Chalfont called upon Miss Hannah Patterson, chairman of the state by-laws committee, who explained in detail, the reason for these suggested changes, which will be voted upon at the state conference in the fall.

Mrs. S. D. Pearson, state chairman of conservation and gardens, and a director of the Southwestern district, had charge of a travel loan exhibit from the state department of Fine Arts, which contained many fine art portraits, and was of much interest during the luncheon hour. After the large group of women was served a tasty luncheon menu, there was a relaxation period of sociability.

Refreshingly different was the afternoon program, beginning at 2:15 which featured an illustrated lecture on "Old Virginia Gardens" by Mrs. Florence McKelvey Clegg, of Youngstown. Mrs. Clegg is a member of the board of the Federated Clubs of Ohio, is an extensive traveler having resided for two years in Switzerland, is a past president of the Youngstown Garden Club and is widely known as a lecturer on all phases of garden beauty.

In connection with the colorful descriptions, it is interesting to note that unlike northern gardens, the beautiful ones in the south are mostly of a formal nature, dating back, some of them, hundred of years. They are all bordered with boxwood, true to old English style of early settlers, a bit of whose history was interestingly related by Mrs. Clegg as part of her story.

In concluding the delightful afternoon's entertainment, the speaker, who had thrown on the slide two typical Virginia pictures, one showing a group of pure white sheep which could be entitled "Keystone of Peace" and another, a group of cattle at the fountains, both peaceful and restful.

Resuming business again, for a few moments, Mrs. Fred Smith of the P. E. Sisterhood gave the report of registration which totaled 143; state officers 3; district officers 2; federation officers 12; club officers 29; members of clubs 90; delegates-at-large, 1; guests 12.

Mrs. F. R. Woods, for Sorosis, reported on the election and, with the exception of Mrs. Treser, whose two year term does not expire until next year, the following officers were installed: Mrs. Roy Long, first vice president; Mrs. Charles Freeman, second vice; Mrs. Roy M. Jamison, recording secretary; Mrs. Bernard Kline, corresponding secretary; Mrs. H. R. McCulloch, treasurer; Mrs. J. L. Emery, parliamentary.

Hostess clubs Tuesday, were Current Events '06, Council of Jewish Women, Reading circle '06. Ushers were Mrs. Dudley Arnold, Miss Margaret Stewart, Miss Elizabeth Milholland, and Mrs. Earl Carpenter.

Several New Wilmington members attended the conference, among whom were Mrs. W. L. Davidson, Mrs. Edwin Freeman, Mrs. Lydia Greer, Mrs. Willett P. Hughes and Miss Florence White, the latter of Westminster faculty.

JUNIOR COUNCIL HAS ELECTION MEETING

Jewish Junior Council members, were entertained in the home of Doris Shenkin, Leisure avenue, Monday evening, when election of officers occurred, with the following results: president, Rosalyn Freeman; first-vice, Florence Shapo; second-vice, Violet Marlin; recording secretary, Beatrice Conner; corresponding secretary, Rosalyn Saifer; treasurer, Dorothy Blau.

Plans were formulated for a dinner dance to be held sometime in June, with Rosalyn Freeman, chairman of the committee in charge. Of special interest too, was the announcement of a tea party to be given in the home of Mrs. Maurice Schoenberger, East Moody avenue. Senior advisor of the Junior Council, early in June. Definite announcement will be made in regard to the date.

The meeting was followed by an informal social period, with refreshments being served by the hostess.

W. B. A. Guards Club.

The Guards club of Review 98, W. B. A. met at the home of Mrs. Emma McKissick, Neshannock avenue, on Monday evening. The associate hostesses who helped arrange for the affair were Mrs. Anna Patterson and Mrs. Rebecca McKissick.

After a business meeting the social period was spent in reading chain letters and playing 500. The prizes for 500 were awarded to Mrs. Helen Dunlap and Miss Jessie Harper.

The home was prettily decorated with numerous bouquets of spring flowers. A very delicious lunch was served at the close of the games.

On June 12 the club will meet with Miss Jessie Harper, Rose avenue.

DINNER LAST NIGHT IN CITY BUILDING

A mother's and daughter's dinner was enjoyed in the city building Tuesday evening by members of the Women's Relief Corps and their mothers.

After dinner the following program pleased the gathering:

Numbers by a guitar and mouth organ trio, Edward and Jack Davis and Brownie Pierog.

Readings by Miss Helen Park, Mrs. Margaret Hammond and Mrs. Georgianna Walsh.

Vocal numbers by Edward and Jack Davis.

Special guests of the evening were Mrs. Samuel Davis, Mrs. Clark Davis and Mrs. Gladys Rush.

The next meeting is to be on June 4.

BARBARA BRATSCHIE HONORED AT PARTY

A delightful party of Monday evening, was that given by Matilda Chapman at her home on Moody avenue, honoring Barbara Bratschie who will become the bride of Paul Hite, this summer. The event was in the form of a "Honeymoon Show-er" and the honored one was the recipient of many dainty personal gifts, taking her by complete surprise.

Bridge formed the pastime, with prizes falling to Sylvia Lee Martin and Grace Sankey, at conclusion of play.

In serving a tempting repast, the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Samuel Staats.

FORECASTS BOOM IN BUILDING

COLONEL ALLISON F. H. SCOTT, national Federal Housing Administration adviser, predicts the largest building boom in the nation's history will be the outcome of the FHA campaign this spring and summer. "The market for construction and modernization is limitless. Our job is to show the home owner that his property value is going to be increased by modernization," he declares.

The building trades have been among those hit hardest by the depression. Many home owners have put off making of needed repairs and alterations for several years. New construction is stagnant.

If property owners can be persuaded that there should be no further delay, and the money is made available as the FHA plans, it is a certainty that the building trades will see a revival of their industry which will make the workers feel the depression is a thing of the past.

HEALTH IS GOOD BUSINESS

Men and women live longer now than did those of half a century ago. The life span has been increased 17 years. The gain is the result of knowledge.

Sickness and death are tragedies in the experience of individuals, but from the point of view of the interests of the community, they are just plain bad business. The service of every able-bodied man to society as a whole has a certain definite cash value. If he lives and keeps well he ought to be counted upon to contribute to the wealth of the community.

This is one justification for spending money collected from the public to protect public health. It is community insurance. Millions are wasted every year, because persons are laid up by sickness.

It is the business of organized society to protect itself against attacks of disease which grow out of bad living conditions. Public money is well and justifiably spent in preventing the accumulation of filth, in providing a safe water supply, in enforcing quarantine regulations, in spreading health information, in providing clinics for the treatment of those unable to secure medical services at their private expenses.

ONLY 100 YEARS HENCE

Here are a few of the scientific "probabilities" of the next century, according to Thomas Midgley, whose discovery of ethyl fluid gives him a right to speak authoritatively on science.

Habitation of Mars and Venus.
Interplanetary travel.
Control of age.
Control of cancer.
Chickens as big as pigs.
Cows as big as mastodons.
Control of indigestion.
Control of dreams.

There's only one fly in this ointment of perfection. Mr. Midgley says there's no assurance that dreams can be eliminated entirely.

If we can still dream, we can still imagine something better than what we have.

And in 2335 we'll probably want what we now have in 1935, or, at any rate, something more human and more fallible than the precise scientific perfection Mr. Midgley foresees.

SAME IDEA IN LESSER FORM

These chain letters whereby honest souls seek to make a few dimes for themselves at the price of overloading the postal system are a good deal like the kind of prosperity we had before 1929, when you stop to think about it.

In each case the idea is a good one as long as you can keep the ball rolling. Collapse comes only when the supply of suckers runs out.

Perhaps it is unkind to see in this a parallel to the frenzied prosperity of the boom years. But you can see it if you look for it, just the same.

In the booming 'twenties, our industrial production was keyed to a steady rising mass of debts. Part of this came in installment-plan buying at home; the greater part came from foreign trade.

Each year we sold a greater quantity of goods abroad. Since we bought abroad much less than we sold, the customers overseas couldn't pay us. So we lent them the money, flooding the domestic market with all manner of foreign bond issues.

The amount of sales and loans kept on going up, year after year. As long as the loans went up just a shade faster than the sales, everything was lovely.

But the whole business—like the dime letter chain—was due to crash the moment this progression was checked. The check finally came, the crash followed—and ever since we have been rubbing our heads and wondering what happened to us.

So we get back, again, to this dime letter business. It's a dizzy way to make money, to be sure; but there is a precedent for it. Individuals are simply trying, in a small way, what the nation as a whole tried in a big way a few years ago. The result, in each case, is a foregone conclusion.

A "problem child" is an urchin with a flat wheel on his roller skates.

If only you could save a dollar once for all instead of having to do it over every day.

Modern Novel: One which reads as if the author wished he had never met his characters.

In every old-fashioned school yard there was always one boy who should have been named Benito.

Peace is a period when nations try their best to damage one another without a declaration of war.

The easiest way for a nation to protect its citizens in other lands is to teach them to be decent.

It seems to be a rule that the more idiotic a "cause" is, the more enthusiastic its followers are.

Our chief trouble is that each citizen knows how to control mankind and wishes he knew how to control his three kids.

Buddy Rogers denies that he is going to marry Mary Pickford. He says pictures and married life don't go together. It does look that way.

The word "insulate." Pap says, is one of the most important in Mother's vocabulary, for every time he arrives home at midnight she yells down the hall, "Hey, you, how come you're always coming insulated?"

Myren, four-year-old brother of twelve-year-old Junior, was visiting a neighbor and recounting to her the many useful things he did. He told her of Junior's taking corn lessons, and he added:

"I do all his practicing for those lessons and get ten cents a week for it."

The Pennsylvania liquor control board is trying to reduce the price of liquor so low it will not pay the bootleggers to leg any more. Some of the legal stuff is said to be worse than the illegal stuff.

A Scottish minister was on his usual visiting rounds when he came across one of his old friends. "And how has the world been treating you, Jock?" asked the minister.

"Very seldom!" replied Jock, sadly.

Up at our house every house-to-house salesman who comes to the door seems to be the father of six children. And all the kids that call to sell magazines have just one left, which they'll have to sell before they can go home, or get licked.

When mother patronizes one of these, pap looks over his paper and says "shucks!"

Government ownership of railroads: Political ownership of the jobs.

"Lady," said the traffic officer to a driver he had stopped, "how long do you intend to be out?"

"What do you mean by that question?" she demanded indignantly.

"Well," he replied, "there are a few hundred other motorists who would like to use this street after you get through with it."

Grandma was helping Peggy make out a list of little guests for her holiday party.

"How about the Morton twins?" Grandma asked.

"Well, there's no need to ask them both," Peggy answered; "they're 'actly alike."

Two men in a hotel room in New York listened to the President's radio address. One commented: "His voice is like a cathedral chime."

The other said: "Seems to me more like an alarm clock." The first comment came from one who admires the President and all his works; the second from one who views the Administration with unconcealed contempt.

Boys See Inside Of Jails.
Shown Prisons As Example.
Taught Crime Doesn't Pay...

NEW YORK, May 22.—In New York boys are being taken, shackled, in prison vans, to the dismal Tombs jail, to be locked in cells for an hour. They belong to the University Settlement Boys Anti-Crime Council. They are being taught, in this manner, that "crime doesn't pay."

They are being shown the horrors of the doomed.

Now there are persons rising to say:

"Haven't the tutors of these young boys got the card before the horse? Are these impressionable young minds not being stricken with such horror, such discouragement, that they will succumb to it, or lose their balance?"

"Would it not be wiser to teach these boys that 'Poverty does not pay'?"

"Nor is that ironical. Man, not Nature, has created poverty. By his inability now to cut the gordian economic knot that is choking him to death, man is losing the civilization for which he has striven these millions of years. Are we afraid to teach our children how to free themselves, do we fear to tell them that unequal distribution of income, that monopolies, that foolish restrictions and jealousies of nations cast their peoples into the economic death?"

"And what causes crime except poverty and the environment that is the outgrowth of poverty?"

"It is not for our children to be intimidated by prisons in order to be impressed that crime does not pay. It is for us to remove the causes of crime."

"Our prisons and our police merely add to the disgrace of the situation that we have tolerated."

WHAT BOYS THOUGHT

What thoughts occupied the minds of the young boys, who passed an hour in this grim prison where youths only slightly older must pass months? Some thought of death as the only escape.

"We read a newspaper account."

"The faces of the boys assumed a grave tenseness as they stared inquisitively at the bare walls, the narrow, bleak cells and the downcast inmates. One boy, his head bowed in thought, asked Warden Adams whether a prisoner could not commit suicide by jumping from the cell tier."

"No," replied the warden, pointing upward, "that's impossible, because of the wire netting arranged to catch anyone who leaps over the railing."

"CRUEL AND DISMAL"

Within these walls the boys learned how society "deals" with its lawbreakers as cruelly as possible—then, turning them out in later years as vengeful, bitter enemies of society.

We read on in the newspaper:

"In the section where prisoners are permitted to receive visitors the boys were astonished to find two partitions of stout wire of a close weave separating the prisoner from the visitor and with space enough between for a guard to pass down the lane."

"Several boys remarked on how 'cruel' and 'dismal' this arrangement was as compared to scenes they remembered in the movies where prisoners were allowed to reach through the bars to embrace their visitors."

Nor are such young boys likely to know that probably the worst punishment of all inflicted on imprisoned persons is the cutting off of normal relationship between men and women, men and families. In some other countries an attempt is being made to remedy that problem. Those countries realize there can be no return to the normal without normal relationships. Thus prisoners are permitted to visit their homes!

DEATH CELLS

The boys, going merely to a jail, saw no death cells.

If they had gone to a penitentiary and had been permitted to visit a death house, they would have seen rows of young men, awaiting death.

Multiply that by every state, and realize the number of young men being put to death each year. If society could save only half, it then could be less ashamed to face its children.

But as long as the fundamentals of crime are glossed over with melo-drama and easy sayings, just so long will the march to death increase.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

OLD CUSTOMS

The celebration in London of the centenary of Old Bailey, the famous criminal court depicted by so many writers and the place where many of Charles Dickens' characters spent their days, recalls some of the oddities of barristers' dress in England and the conservatism of the custom.

The reason why barristers wear black gowns is that members of the profession went into mourning for Queen Anne. Though Queen Anne is dead, the profession in England keeps on mourning.

The English are conservative in the matter of dress. The Knights of the Garter continue to wear short capes and hoods, the same as in chaperon days. The clocks on ladies' hose were originally put on to hide the gusset seams when the stockings were of cloth, and have continued as part of hosiery attire ever since.

SIGNS OF BABYHOOD

On the sleeve of mother's dress
Sticky little fingers press.
On her left arm spots reveal
Signs of many a happy meal:
Milk and gravy, cookie crumbs.
Printed there by dimpled thumbs.
That's why mothers everywhere
Cannot keep a thing to wear.

Always little fingers leave
Traces on the mother's sleeve.
If you're an observant eye
You can tell them passing by.
Mothers who have children small
Cannot hide the fact at all.
There are places oft retouched
Which the little hands have clutched.

Spots of jam and drops of milk
Left indelibly on silk.
Are, if rightly understood,
Certain signs of babyhood.
There's one side of every dress
Where the sticky fingers press;
There's one wrinkled sleeve, and it's Always where the baby sits.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 22

Today's Yesterdays—May 22, 1611.

—The first baronets were created in England by King James I—as a means of raising money. He sold the title to all comers for the equivalent of $5,000.

May 22, 1782—George Washington refused to be a king! In a letter to Col. Louis Nicola, he emphatically rejected a proposal to make him monarch of the new nation.

May 22, 1813—Richard Wagner was born in Leipzig, destined to become a notable writer at 13 and the 19th century's "Colossus of Music."

Nevertheless he like many a Tin Pan Alley composer, plagiarized. At a rehearsal of Die Walkure, Wagner said to his father-in-law Franz Liszt, "Now, Poppa, here comes a theme I took from you."

May 22, 1859—Arthur Conan Doyle was born, destined to create the most enduring of modern literary characters, Sherlock Holmes, who first appeared in A Study in Scarlet when Doyle was 28. Yet Doyle tried repeatedly to kill the character, and would rather have been known for his historical novels, The White Company and Brigadier Gerard.

May 22, 1867.—Hopes nearly a century old of bringing the Canadian provinces into the United States, were dashed as Queen Victoria proclaimed the formation of the Dominion of Canada, by federation of Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia—only half of the present Dominion territory.

50 Years Ago Today, May 22, 1885, Victor Marie Hugo died at 83, having earned immortality as the author of Les Miserables, tale which we are told is "the greatest epic and dramatic work of fiction ever created or conceived." It was published when he was 60.

Notable Nativities—Jacob Gould Schurman, b. 1854, diplomat and educator. . . . Robert G. Sproul, b. 1891, president of University of California. . . . Rev. Frederick H. Knobel, b. 1870, president of Lutheran church in America. . . . Richard W. "Rube" Marquard, b. 1890, famed baseball pitcher of yesteryear, now a race track employee.

Writing Wrongs—You may think that the day has the same length throughout the country.

Obviously, when you consider latitude, it hasn't. Tomorrow, for instance, the sun rises in New York City at approximately 4:36 a. m., E. S. T., and sets at 7:18 p. m., whereas in New Orleans it is up at approximately 4:57 a. m. and down at 6:57 p. m. And you may think—that a billion (of anything) in England is the same thing as a billion in the U. S.

It isn't. In the U. S. a billion is a thousand million; in England it's a million million. No one could ever count up to a billion in either country, even if one started in early youth and kept at it day and night all through life.

Frederic Leopold, Philadelphia theater owner, twits us for referring to 147 years as a century and a half, and John G. McConomy, Philadelphia finds us tripping up in naming Edward V as father of England's present king when, of course, it was Edward VII. We'd blame that on a typographical error, except that Bill White, Johnson City, Tenn., has just given us a dig: "You're wrong if you believe Clark Kinnaird is ever wrong. He isn't, it's only a typographical error."

MOTHERS ARE GUESTS AT TUESDAY BANQUET

A mother's and daughter's banquet, sponsored by the choir and conducted Tuesday evening in St. John's Lutheran church, was attended by a large crowd of women and turned out to be most successful in every respect.

Each mother and special speaker was presented with a small shoulder bouquet as tokens of respect from the daughters. Invocation was given by Miss Mary Ruffer, followed by a toast to the mothers by Miss Naomi Leonhardt, a piano solo by Miss Vivian Dukes, a toast to the daughters by Mrs. Emory Wolf, a vocal duet by Misses Esther Trent and Betty Woodring.

The principal speaker was Mrs. Carmel Glover, who had been confirmed and married when St. John's church was the old Trinity church. Her address was of unusual interest and was splendidly delivered. The program was concluded with a piano solo by Miss Barbara Schultz and a solo, "Mother of Mine," by Mrs. Ben Agnew.

Dinner Honors Two

Teachers of the beginners' department of the First Baptist church met for dinner Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Genevieve McCalmont, who is to be graduated from New Castle Senior high school soon, and Miss Eva Grace Caven, who is to be graduated from Union high.

Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock in the church. Special guests were Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Heaton and the mothers of the two young women.

Small gifts in memory of the occasion were presented to the honored two.

Ford Raises Wages Again

Henry Ford Jumps Workers One Dollar Per Day, Now Make $6.00 Per Day

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Mich., May 22.—Henry Ford's belief that business is better when wages are raised is being reflected today in his announcement that the wages of the 126,000 workers in his automobile plants had been restored to the $6-a-day minimum scale he paid in 1929. It will cost his factories about $24,000,000 a year.

The automobile magnate's announcement confirmed Ford's often repeated policy that "no one loses by raising wages as soon as he is able." His first wage boost was in 1914 when he raised the minimum from $2.37 to $5.00 a day. Early in 1929 the rate was $6.00, and after the market crash that year he raised it to $7.00.

The latter maneuver "in the attempt to break the depression" cost the company $33,000,000, the announcement said. During the depression the minimum rate dropped to $4.00, but was back up to $5.00 in March of last year.

COLE BROS.-CLYDE BEATTY CIRCUS HERE

Trumpeting bands, tooting calliope, rumbling wagons of red and gold, cumbrous elephants, and humping camels, along with clowns, pretty ladies, etc. took possession of the downtown streets about noon today, when the gorgeous and fantastic street parade of the Cole Bros.-Clyde Beatty Circus passed in review before a throng of admiring kiddies and grownups.

Upwards of a thousand men, women, horses, elephants and camels, took part in the extravaganza, "Serenade of Spain," and colossal fiesta depicting the charm, romance, and gaiety of the land of romance, which served as a prelude to the circus performance proper, this afternoon.

Starting as a little wagon show, that was looked upon as a joke, in the short space of thirty years, it has grown to be one of the world's largest amusement organizations. The big show recently returned from a five year tour of Europe.

There are performances at 2 and 8 p. m. The doors to the big show open one hour earlier to permit an inspection of one of the world's largest traveling zoos, or to enjoy the concert of popular and operatic music by Prof. Victor Robbins' military band. Reserved and admission tickets are on sale at the white ticket wagon on the show grounds, which will be continuously accessible for the sale of reserved seats. General admission tickets are on sale at the red ticket wagon simultaneously with the opening of the doors.

TO ALL NATIONS the dove is a symbol of peace. Back through the ages the bird has figured in religion and mythology as representative of goodwill, brotherhood and peace. It is symbolic of these qualities in ancient Jewish writings, in Grecian mythology, and has such significance in modern Christianity. The bird was used as the motif on a special stamp issued by Japan to mark the victory of the Allies and end of the World war in 1918.

DOGGS CAUGHT OFF GUARD BY EATS

PORTLAND, Ore.—Bootleggers who would continue to evade the law by employing vicious dogs as lookouts will have more success if they remember to feed the dogs.

Two brothers, Christ and Jim Angles, were arrested while operating a 60-gallon still near Hebo, Ore., although they had a bear hound, a police dog and an Alaskan husky roaming the brush in the vicinity of the still as sentinels.

Special internal revenue agents, who found the brothers' still, were in turn discovered themselves by the dogs as they lay in the brush, watching. After several unpleasant minutes, the agents finally solved the difficulties by dividing their lunches with the three animals, who then followed them obediently when they walked to the still site to arrest the Angles brothers.

Pymatuning To Be Turned Into Site For Parks

Two C. C. C. Camps Will Develop Facilities For Recreation This Summer

FISHING WILL START IN 1937

HARRISBURG, May 22.—Pymatuning lake in Crawford county, constructed originally as a flood control reservoir, will be "dressed up," with the idea of developing it into one of the greatest recreational areas in the eastern part of the United States, Ralph M. Bashore, secretary of the Department of Forests and Waters, announced today.

The work will begin almost immediately with the assignment of two new CCC camps in the area, one each at the extremities of the mammoth reservoir.

Two Camps
The two new camps will represent a working force of approximately 400 men, and these men will continue the transformation of this vast area of 17,000 acres which was once a swamp.

The civilian conservation workers will build roads, provide water supply, and install sewage facilities. Preliminary plans call for three distinct developments along Pymatuning's 70-mile shore line. The recreational areas will be concentrated in the Pymatuning development, and restrictions will be placed on undeveloped territory. Colonization will begin at the southern point of the lake front near Turnersville, Crawford county, and at a point near Linesville in the extreme northern end. Another development in the preliminary plans is charred midway on the eastern shore of the lake.

Federal Funds
Beautification of these sections will be done entirely by the CCC workers, for at present there is no money in the Department of Forests and Waters budget to develop this lake property.

When this work is finally completed there will be swimming, fishing, boating, golf, skating and many other forms of recreation for the people of Pennsylvania and nearby states.

There will be no fishing until July 1, 1937, according to an agreement between the water power and resources boards of Pennsylvania and Ohio.

The Pymatuning reservoir is within five feet of being filled and it will probably take another year and require about 20,000,000 gallons of water to reach its water level.

Pymatuning is the largest lake in Pennsylvania, and combines features such as water supply, flood control, sanitation and recreation.

Campers' Reunion Is Held At Y. M. C. A.

Dinner, Program And Pool Swim Mark Frolic Of Camp Rentz Boys

The boyish whoops and hurrahs that echo out at Camp Fred L. Rentz of the Y. M. C. A. every summer rang through the New Castle Y. M. C. A. building this week as 75 husky camp lads, eagerly waiting for the new season to open July 2, gathered to spin camp tales again and to enjoy the recreational facilities of the Y.

Dinner preceded the program in which Gethin Thomas, Bill Winter, Robert Muse, Bill Reed, Jack Elliott and Jack Flora spoke. The toastmaster of the program was Frank Baldwin, counselor at the camp during the past seasons.

General Secretary R. L. Meermans told the boys of camp plans for the 1935 season and Physical Director Henry T. MacNicholas, who planned the reunion "camporee," told them of the proposed handicraft program for this year. A swim in the pool of the Y culminated the evening program.

According to word received by the county commissioners the proposed Edensburg viaduct has been placed on the preferred list of state highway projects.

Marriage license applications, to be valid in Lawrence county, must be made out by an alderman or justice of the peace in this county, where the couple does not go to the court house. An application before a justice or alderman in an adjoining county is not good here.

Petition to vacate a portion of a public road in Scott township known as the Harlansburg-East Brook road, has been presented to court. The road has been taken over by the state highway department and a part of it has been re-located, leaving a section which it is desired to abandon. The court appointed Attorney Homer C. Drake, Alex Main and George Hettenbaugh as viewers.

A certified copy of the will of the late Richard J. Berry, of Findlay, O., who had interests in this county, has been filed at the register and recorder's office and ancillary letters of administration have been granted to Robert L. Wallace.

The state legislature is in a fair way toward enactment of an anti-party raiding law, which will apply to the September 17 primary if signed by the governor. It will prevent a candidate for any office, except that of judge, from being a candidate for the nomination of more than one party. It will not, however, prevent a candidate from going into any municipal or general election, with more than one party nomination.

Two sections of the election laws relative to registering assessors in boroughs and townships are a little confusing. The law provides that assessors are expected to finish party enrollments by May 27, and hang a copy on the door of houses where elections are to be held but it is not necessary for assessors to return books to the county commissioners on that date. Another section says the books are to be returned to the county commissioners on July 18. In the meantime, on July 17, assessors are to sit at polling places to register and enroll on personal application persons not already registered or enrolled. They may also change party affiliations application of a voter to have the change made.

REMARKABLE RIDING COMFORT

CENTER-POISE RIDING is an important feature of this year's Ford V-8. It is a fundamental change in motor car building and it makes a tremendous difference on every type of road. There's increased stability and safety, as well as increased comfort.

Center-Poise Riding means you ride nearer the center of the car—cradled between the wheels. Rear-seat passengers now have the comfort of a "front-seat ride" because their weight rests well forward of the rear axle. The engine is also mounted forward of the conventional position to distribute the weight more evenly on all four wheels. This permits the use of springs of exactly the right flexibility for greatest comfort—front and rear.

The longer springs are set farther apart and provide a longer base for spring action. The springbase of the New Ford V-8 is eleven inches longer than the wheelbase!

We'd like to have you ride in the Ford V-8 and test it on the roughest roads you know. Owners say the comfort of the Ford is as outstanding as its V-8 performance.

The engineer's department performed numerous chores during last year. Some street car rails abandoned in West Washington street and Sampson street were removed. Joints in paved street were coated with tar which sealed the brick. The cartway on the Mahoning avenue viaduct and the handrail were fixed. "The grangers, mill and industrial workers and citizens committee for the use of only Eastern Standard Time, hereby request that you cooperate by adopting and announcing through the New Castle News a uniform schedule of opening and closing on Eastern Standard Time of the court house and county offices, with a further request that as far as possible public service be rendered continuously during the time of opening until closing.

"If desired, there will be no objection offered to closing thirty minutes earlier than regular schedule during the summer months.

p. m., Eastern Standard Time, (heretofore offices were closed at noon hour) with the exception of Saturdays when they will close at 12 o'clock noon and legal holidays when they will observe such hours as other business houses.
Thanking you for the space in your valuable paper.

Wage Scale In Works-Relief

Will Vary From $44 To $77 Per Month Under Executive Order

By ARTHUR C. WIMER, Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 22.—Wages paid in Lawrence county under the Administration's new five billion dollar work-relief program will vary from $48 to $77 a month, according to an executive order issued by President Roosevelt.

The 1930 population of the largest municipality in a county determines the rate of pay in all sections of that county. According to this specification, Lawrence county rates will vary according to degree of skill from a minimum of $48 to a maximum of $77 monthly. The following rates will prevail throughout the county: unskilled workers, $48; intermediate workers, $55; skilled workers, $70; and professional and technical workers, $77.

These wage rates will apply to most projects conducted in whole or part with federal money. However, certain types of projects are excepted, such as those supervised by the Public Works Administration, state projects, highway grade crossing elimination, and a few others.

In Butler and Beaver counties, the following rates will prevail: unskilled, $44 a month; intermediate, $50; skilled, $63; and professional and technical workers, $69.

In selection of workers for any project, preference will be given to jobless on relief lists, and except with the specific authorization of the Federal Works Progress Administration at least 90 per cent of all persons working on a work project shall be taken from such relief rolls.

Tidiness Means Safety In Plants

Good Housekeeping Week Begins May 27 At Lehigh Portland Cement Plant

Preparations for the industry-wide June No-Accident Campaign sponsored by the Portland Cement Association will be completed the week of May 27, which has been designated "Good Housekeeping Week." The Lehigh Cement Company plant here is participating and has adopted as its slogan for the week, "A place for everything and everything in its place."

"An unclean and untidy work place is just as unpleasant and unnecessary as an untidy home and reflects just as much on the character of its occupants. The management of our company has always believed in cleanliness and order in the interest of both efficiency and safety."

was the comment of Chas. H. Schlicher, chairman of the special committee in charge of the week's activity.

"Few persons, however, stop to think that good housekeeping in industry is more than a matter of general neatness. To illustrate, it has often been demonstrated that the momentary laying down of a tool while a job was in progress created a tripping hazard resulting in injury. There is a proper temporary as well as permanent place for everything. Monetary forgetfulness of the rules of orderly work can cause serious accidents. That is why it is necessary to constantly stress order in our work and actions as well as order on our surroundings," he said.

Other members of "Good Housekeeping Week" committee besides Mr. Schlicher, are R. E. Barckley, Fred Kenehan, A. J. Krah, Bert Hoagland and J. A. McFall.

No substance is completely invisible, not even air. That explains why the sky is blue.

EUROPE DISCUSSES HITLER'S PLAN FOR PEACE

Germany's Ideas Given By Hitler

Two Hour Address Outlines Germany's Intentions As To Peace Program

GERMANY MUST BE ACCEPTED AS EQUAL

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, May 22.—Germany today issued a call to arms, and to the plow and machine, drafting every able-bodied man and woman between 18 and 45 for wartime service in trench, field, home or factory, at the same time European governments debated Reichsfuehrer Hitler's plan for European peace and security.

At least one year's military service, preceded by a period in the labor service, was ordered for all men under terms of the new conscription decree promulgated today. Others are "on call" for "designated services" in wartime.

To Call Conscripts
The first conscripts will probably be called up for one year beginning next October.

Meanwhile German official circles regarded Hitler's two hour speech to the Reichstag not as a mere outline of what Germany will and will not do, but as a comprehensive and detailed peace offer that now places the onus for its failure upon the other European powers.

Hitler's 13 points blamed the war victors for first one-sidedly breaking the Versailles treaty, but promising that Germany would abide by the treaty's other terms, including the demilitarized Rhineland.

Germany, he said, would conclude no pacts involving military assistance, but was open for treaties of non-aggression and isolation of belligerents with all her neighbors except Memel.

The Reich adheres to the Locarno pact, which binds her to military aid against a west European aggressor, and is willing to extend that to involve aerial aggression.

Germany As Equal
But all future agreements must accept Germany as an equal, and the Reich must be represented at the council table when they are proposed.

Most concrete of his pledges, aimed to please Britain, was Hitler's statement that Germany's demand for a navy 35 per cent as large as Britain's which is 85 per cent of France's, was "final." He suggested abolition of submarines, bombing planes, heavy artillery, and tanks. Such abolition, together with the demilitarized zone, will give France absolute security behind her fortifications, Hitler said, but he expressed alarm at French troop increases west of the Rhine.

The speech definitely paved the way for an early visit by Foreign Minister Pierre Laval of France to Berlin, which may be the first concrete result of Germany's proposals. Conciliation of Italy was attempted in his promise that Germany has no intention of interfering in the internal life of Austria.

Germany's plan to disarm after the war, Hitler said, was put out of operation by powers which could not make up their minds to follow Germany's example.

He assailed Bolshevism as "international," and said no non-aggression pact could be completed with Lithuania until the "most primitive human rights" of the Germans in Memel were respected.

Labor Assembly Has Session Last Night

City's Organization Meets To Hear Reports; Discuss Activities

Members of the New Castle Trades and Labor Assembly held its regular meeting on Tuesday night with 12 of the 14 affiliated organizations having delegates present.

President Norman D. Freeborne brought an interesting report on the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor which took place in Harrisburg May 14 to 18. He also reported a conference held with State Relief Director Robert L. Johnson relative to New Castle conditions.

State and national legislation of interest to organized labor was discussed at length by the assembly, and the body went on record as endorsing the Wagner-Connelly Labor Disputes bill which recently passed the senate.

Ludendorff Said No.
The Pope Foresees Sor-row.
Really A Good Offer.
A Professor Makes Good.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

CHANCELLOR HITLER, of Germany, conferred upon the fighting German General Ludendorff, the title "Field Marshal General," the highest rank in Germany's army. General Ludendorff, greatest, after Von Hindenburg, in the big war, declined with thanks, announced his retirement to a small hunting lodge in the Bavarian mountains. It is suggested that Germany's most distinguished living general did not feel that his glory could be increased by Chancellor Hitler, who was a corporal in the army of Austria.

Chancellor Hitler could remind General Ludendorff that the "Little Corporal," Napoleon Bonaparte's nickname of affection, created many a marshal. There was, however, a difference between the "Little Corporal" and the Austrian corporal.

WHILE HONORING in St. Peter's the first two English saints proclaimed since the Reformation, Sir Thomas More and Bishop John Fisher, Pope Pius appealed to the British to "return to the father's house," praying that England might return to the Catholic church. "In unity of faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God."

In some "High" Church of England services there is so near an approach to Catholic ritual as to make a distinction difficult for the uninitiated.

THE POPE'S plea for religious unity was rejected offhand in London, by the Rev. W. H. Carnegie, sub-dean of Westminster, who compared the church of England to a constitutional government and the Catholic church to the government of Mussolini. The Vatican has proved that it can wait.

Pope Pius, saying "the present times are critical," predicted troublous times ahead for the faithful. He foresaw, not necessarily "a martyrdom of blood, but a martyrdom of life obstacles raised against fulfillment of the duties imposed by God and ordered by the Church.

IN OLD Weber and Field days, one actor offered $5,000 for a dog; you ain't got $5,000.

"I know it," said Mike, "but ain't it a good offer?"
A good offer is desirable when it cannot cost anything. Consider Mr. Eugene Daniell, who, according to Universal Service, once ran for President, got 100 votes, and later dropped tear gas bombs in New York's stock exchange, driving into the street brokers, some of whom were shedding their first tears since 1929.

YESTERDAY AT the corner of Fifth Avenue and Forty-second street, New York, Mr. Daniell, selling Senator Huey Long's excellent and energetic newspaper, "The American Progress," proclaimed "Huey Long for President. Father Coughlin for Vice President." Mr. Daniell offered a five-plank platform:

1. Life, liberty and happiness for everybody.
2. Minimum income of $2,500 yearly for everybody.
3. Minimum estate value of $5,000 for everybody.
4. Pensions of $50 monthly for everybody over sixty years old.
5. Immediate payment of the veterans' bonus.

Not everybody may get everything that is offered BUT Mr. Daniell made three cents profit on each five-cent newspaper, and he sold many.

His cry was "buy America's greatest newspaper, owned by the next President of the United States, Huey Long."

Mr. Daniell, Harvard graduate, says he gave up practice of law "to take charge of America's social earthquake," and announces "a great political rally at Beaux Arts Hall, 328 East Eighth-street, basement hall in rear of the grill."

One campaign is started.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT may be right about professors. An eight-year-old girl was missing in New York, and police detectives, plus 50 policemen, especially assigned, and troops of Boy Scouts searched the neighborhood vainly, for 61 hours.

Prof. Taylor Putney, Jr., of New York University, said to the police, "I saw boys and girls digging a cave in the sand, late on the day of the girl's disappearance; look there," and pointed. There at the foot of the concrete wall the girl was found, apparently smothered by sand that had caved in. There is much in knowing how to LOOK for what you want to find.

NOT DISCOURAGED by disaster, Russia's government will build three more giant planes, each as big as the one that crashed, killing forty-eight men, women and children, because of a "stunting" Russian pilot's stupidity.

The wrecked plane, named for Maxim Gorky, was the world's biggest flying machine, carrying a load of 104,000 pounds to an altitude of 20,000 feet.

Building three new ones to replace the one destroyed is Stalin's idea of "defying destiny."

IN NEW JERSEY, a fire warden and his pilots, making an air survey, saw a man set a fire deliberately, in the forest, move on in his automobile and set fire again, and again. Many lives were endangered, thousands of acres burned over. The warden hopes to identify the individual.

Would it not be well, for such emergencies, to carry a few gas bombs, such as would interrupt the pyromaniac's activities without causing death?

MERCER, May 21.—Of the 100 holders of beer licenses out of the office of County Treasurer George W. Lawrence, 20 have already applied for renewals June 1 when the licenses all expire following a 12-month longevity.

It is stated that this week should see the major portion of the total list applicants for renewals.

The licenses are granted under the first liquor act passed which authorizes the sale of 3.2 beer. It is a surprising fact that out of the total number the major portion are retailers of this beverage.

The remaining licenses are granted to wholesalers.

Dedicate Flags At Cosmo Club

Address Is Made By Judge
Benjamin Lencher, Of Pittsburgh

One of the most eloquent addresses heard in New Castle for some time was that of Judge Benjamin Lencher of Pittsburgh who made the address dedicating two flags in the Cosmo Club, Tuesday night. It was more than an address, it was an oratorical gem, sparkling with polished phrases and vibrant with sincerity and appeal.

For the occasion the Cosmo Club was packed to the doors by members and their wives. Seated at the speakers table were President Irving Grossman, Toastmaster Lou Sander, Judge Lencher, Judges R. Lawrence Hildebrand and James A. Chambers and Mayor Charles B. Mayne.

Judge Lencher was introduced by Toastmaster Lou Sander, a boyhood chum of the judge's and in his opening remarks Judge Lencher said, "I count you a fortunate people to possess two such sterling jurists as the gentlemen who sit here with me. As a lawyer I have tried cases under them, as a judge I have worked with them. They represent the highest and best traditions of the bench."

The judge then swung into the body of his address and prefatory to the flag dedication he quoted the late scientist Edwin Slosson who divided the world into three stages, Apprehensive, Adaptive and Creative. "In the creative age the human being must have symbols representing his faith, and here we have two such symbols, representing the faith of us, one a symbol that goes back 4000 years and the other a symbol that is younger but contains the age old qualities of knowledge and faith of the other."

In his address Judge Lencher went into the background and history of the Jewish flag, the Star of David set upon a field of blue and white. Pride of ancestry and joy of achievement were in his words, and as he spoke his audience sat spellbound. As he finished the crowd rose and gave him a tremendous ovation.

Mayor Charles B. Mayne was the first speaker and welcomed the guests of the evening. Judge Hildebrand and Chambers spoke briefly as did Bart Richards. For the Cosmo Club president Irving Grossman accepted the two flags and promised that the best traditions of each would be upheld by the club and its membership. Rabbi Leon Schwartz delivered the invocation and benediction.

Following the program there was a social hour provided for the guests with refreshments being served. The evening was one that will live in the memories of the club members for seldom have they heard and seldom will they hear an address of the quality of that of Judge Lencher.

Good Bids For School Bonds

Refunding Bonds For $30,000 Bring Premium
Of $1,245

INTEREST RATE
IS 3 PER CENT

Once again the credit of the New Castle school district was demonstrated in a practical way when the board sold $30,000 worth of refunding bonds on Tuesday night. The successful bidder, Singer, Dean & Scribner company of Pittsburgh took the issue at par and accrued interest plus a premium of $1,245. The bonds carry an interest rate of three per cent.

Nine bidders submitted figures on the bond issue, submitting their bid on any rate of interest between three and four per cent. Six of them quoted 3 1/4 per cent and three of them three per cent. The bid of the Singer, Dean & Scribner company was by far the best bid of the lot.

The bonds run from 12 to 17 years in duration, $5000 being retired each year for six years beginning with the 12th year of the bond life. They will be issued in $1000 denominations and will be dated July 1, 1935. The total interest and four mill tax on them to be paid by the school district will total $13,050. Interest will be semi-annual and will be paid on January 1 and July 1.

The bond issue is a refunding of an issue of $30,000 which was placed in 1920 at five per cent. Because of the financial stress at the present time the board decided to get the money to retire the issue by re-issuing the same amount of bonds. Before the bonds are delivered to the company bidding for them they must be approved by the Department of Internal Affairs of the commonwealth and a fee of $25 paid for the approval.

The preparation necessary for a bond issue is lengthy and intricate. Solicitor William J. Moffatt had prepared every step necessary for the bond award last night and this consisted of a six-page resolution, a maze of costs on the various kinds of bonds bid upon and other legal steps.

The name of the other bidders and their bids follow: First National Bank of Lawrence County, three per cent, par and $100 premium; Peoples bank, 3 1/4 per cent, par and $101.10 premium; Van Elstein company, 3 1/4 per cent, par and $9.30 premium; Halsey, Stuart company, 3 1/4 per cent, par and $304.20 premium; Yarnall company, three per cent, par and $381 premium; Glover & McGregor, 3 1/4 per cent, par and $428 premium; D. N. Rollins & Sons, three per cent, par and $802.50 premium; S. W. Cunningham & Co., 3 1/4 per cent, par and $225 premium.

Still Room For Good Physicians

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 22.—The medical profession is not overcrowded. There is ample room for more physicians in the fields of public health, preventive medicine and hygiene, according to Dr. Frank F. Bozell, chairman of the Pennsylvania State Medical Society Committee on Medical Economics.

He addressed the Allegheny county Medical Society at a meeting here.

"Infinitely greater advances in public health and preventive medicine could be made if we could but replace thousands of so-called specialists without any medical qualifications," Dr. Bozell said.

Relief Board To Save Community

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 22.—More than 500 persons, miners and their families, were assured of their homes here today following action by the Fayette county emergency relief board.

The board agreed to pay $2.25 a month rental for the homes in which the miners live in the stranded community Tower Hill-Connelville Coal company village. Some time ago the 300 were told to prepare to leave their homes. They were informed that taxes were "eating up" the property and that they would have to move to a new community.

The mine has been closed down for some time and all the families are on relief.
Receivers of the company's mine No. 1 have agreed to allow the families to stay. The village is near Brownsville.

She was right. Today Mrs. Margaret Feustel identified the body of her son in the morgue. William had tried to "flip" a ride, police said, on a lumbering trailer truck and had fallen beneath the wheels.

"IRON JAW" IS THE PERFECT NAME FOR IT

The daring young man on the flying trapeze has nothing on the iron-jaw girls when it comes to taking chances in the upper reaches of the big tent. Contrary to popular belief, the iron-jaw performers do not have gadgets which they literally lock into their mouths so that they cannot possibly fall. They grip leather with their teeth and they hang on by dint of sheer necessity when the giant swings start whirling high in the air.

Prominent on the roster of iron-jaw aerialists in the great Hagenbeck-Wallace and Forepaugh-Sells Bros. Combined Circus are Ruth Hendryx, Jamie Graves and Stella Cronin.

They'll be in New Castle with the circus on Saturday, June 1 for afternoon and evening exhibitions.

Stock Market Is Reactionary

First Sell-off Comes In Rails, Utilities And Steels Quickly Follow

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, May 22.—The stock market turned reactionary toward midday today. First sell-off came in the rails, and was quickly followed in the utilities, steels and motors.

The rest of the list was ragged and losses ran to a point and more. There were several firm spots, particularly in the oils, tobaccos and chemicals.

Commodities were mixed, silver rising, grains holding firm and cotton giving ground. The dollar was strong and bonds irregular, especially in speculative divisions.

Standard of New Jersey rose nearly a point to a new high for the year. Shell and Tidewater were strong and active.

DuPont was buoyant in the chemicals with a rise of well over a point while Union Carbide hit a new high. These gains were cut later.

Consolidated Gas was heavily sold in the utilities and hit the lowest price in weeks. The other power shares were down. American Telephone was firm.

Rail shares suffered moderate losses, with Southern Railway issues notably weak.

U. S. Steel common and Chrysler each lost a point. Coppers met support but silvers reacted.

The program of Compulsory Health Insurance ignores the in-born struggle of the worker to forge ahead in life and to use his income as he wishes. The laborers desire to use their income and to manage their affairs in their own way and at their own cost. It is agreed that for most of the population about 95 percent of illness is of short duration and that short illnesses are of no social or political importance.

Ellwood Opposes Canal Project

Action Taken By Local Chamber After Address By C. E. Sankey Last Night

CITY TO REMAIN ON DAYLIGHT TIME

Recent Action At Tube Mill Is Explained To Satisfaction By Speaker

ELLWOOD CITY, May 22.—The opposition to the Beaver-Mahoning canal project was taken in Ellwood City last night, when its Chamber of Commerce heard an address by C. E. Sankey, an official of the local tube plant. After the address the chamber unanimously voted to oppose the canal.

Mr. Sankey pointed out that Beaver and Mahoning counties will have a greater part of the canal yet Lawrence County will have to pay more than an appropriate share of the taxes. Then Mr. Sankey stated that the canal would give the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company and other competitors a decided advantage over the local plant. "In fact, it might compel the local plant to move to Lorain, O.," Mr. Sankey asserted. "The plant would not desire this as it recently has made an investment of three million dollars in new machinery. The plant has been a deciding factor in the founding and development of Ellwood City."

He declared that the canal would ship to the people of this community, "the speaker declared in closing. He urged the Chamber and the people of this city to do everything in their power to defeat this project."

Explains Company Action

Upon being asked later in the evening, what was the cause of the recent laying off of men in the tube plant, Mr. Sankey stated that business has dropped and it was necessary to lay off 125 men. These were cases in which the men were hired last and had no dependents or else had other sources of income. These men will be employed again as soon as business warrants it. All the cases are being investigated and any errors in laying off men are being rectified, Mr. Sankey asserted.

Daylight Time Stands

Considerable discussion was held on Daylight Saving Time, which the city is on. A protest against it was read from the surrounding granges, who requested that the city return to Eastern Standard Time. The protest stated that the daylight time was detrimental to the farmers who do business here and to the children at home as well as those in school. It urged that since New Castle has returned to standard time, it is proper for Ellwood to do so.

In speaking for the tube plant, Mr. Sankey stated that a return to standard time would mean a considerable loss of orders and therefore business. Business men and other manufacturers also opposed to reverting back to the standard time.

After the discussion the chamber unanimously voted to stay on Daylight Saving Time.

Thousands Of Girls Take Part In Clubs And Classes Of Y. W.

Annual Report Of Y. W. C. A. Outlines Extensive Work Being Done Here

Some conception of the wide scope of activities in which the local Young Women's Christian Association is engaged may be received by the annual report for the year just ended, as prepared by Miss Margaret White, general secretary.

The report follows:

The Y. W. C. A. was given $7,600 by the Community Chest and $700 by its members with which to serve the 3871 girls and women who participate in its activities or about $2 per girl. Of course some of these do not need that much but others need very much more especially the hundreds of young girls just out of high school who cannot find jobs and need a place to come for friendship and recreation.

During 1934:

1074 Women and girls applied for work.

257 Jobs were found.

179 Paid to use the fourth floor dormitory rooms.

29 Free dormitory guests.

79 Travellers Aid cases were assisted.

677 Visits on different foreign born persons were made.

24 Board members with great responsibility.

124 Committee members framing policies.

26 Club advisers for clubs of women and girls.

20 Teachers for classes.

Four Secretaries for Colored branch, International Institute, clubs and general administration.

364 Registered in government classes.

130 Campers at East Brook.

271 In educational classes.

365 In adult clubs.

767 In high school and junior high school clubs.

671 Adult members in the Y. W. C. A.

In April and May, 1935, the Membership Ingathering has brought the adult membership to 890—746 paid and 69 promised by June 1 from the Central Branch and 46 paid and 30 promised at Elm street. This year much more interest was taken by Y. W. C. A. clubs to secure Y. W. C. A. clubs to secure Y. W. C. A. club memberships besides helping on the general campaign.

9 out of 18 International Institute Mothers club are now Y. W. C. A. members.

9 of 14 Energetic (Polish) Girls club are now Y. W. C. A. members.

16 of 19 Square Circle (Italian) girls club are Y. W. C. A. members.

9 of 20 Italian Mothers club are Y. W. C. A. members.

11 of 14 Blue Triangle (Business girls) are Y. W. C. A. members.

Dormitory residents 100% also, 68 out of 100 B. P. W. club are now Y. W. C. A. members.

Hanna's Restaurant 100%.

We have many club members and very many in classes who are not working whom we do not even ask to be members because we know they cannot afford it. This is true in all parts of the nation as the National Y. W. C. A. reports 407,000 members in the United States but 2,000,000 women and girls taking part in the Y. W. C. A. program.

Teachers for adult education classes have been paid by the government emergency education fund for a little more than a year. But since November we have had five full time well trained teachers, both for Central and Colored Branch teaching handcraft, sketching, sewing, English, citizenship, elementary psychology, singing, cooking, tennis, volleyball and other recreation. There are at present 285 registered with an average weekly attendance of 170.

At the present writing, May 21, all April bills are paid and if the community continues to pay what they have pledged to the Chest we ought to be able to close our year without debt. At the present time the Y. W. C. A. is over 50% self supporting with expenditures of $8,392.76 and receipts from its own rents, endowments, membership fees, musical comedy and club, committee and branch donations of $4,764.34 plus the $3,622.51 from the Chest and the $837.26 balance from last year leaves us a balance of $2.96 on May 1. Very much of the expense of the Y. W. C. A. is in keeping up its 52-year-old building which is continually needing repair and cleaning but which is so located that it is of much greater service to the community than as if it were out of the center of town.

LION RIDES IN RUMBLE SEAT

Team Of Jumping Horses Leap Over Standing Auto At Circus

A lion that rides in the rumble seat of an automobile and a team of jumping horses that can and do jump over a standing automobile are two of the features of the Cole Brothers and Clyde Beatty circus which is showing in New Castle this afternoon and evening.

The lion is a three-quarter grown cub which is a pet of Clyde Beatty. Beatty frequently carries the animal, the size of a young calf, in the rumble seat or on the folded top of his Ford V-8 sport roadster. The lion has grown quite fond of his daily automobile airing and Beatty declares that he is much more efficient than the average automobile watch dog.

The team of horses that hurdle an automobile is an idea that originated with Ted Elder, known in circus circles as "Suicide" Elder. The latter joined the circus early this spring with his team of high-jumping horses. After many spectacular performances, he suddenly hit upon the idea one day at rehearsal, of jumping two horses at once over a Ford V-8 roadster (with top down, of course). He tried it and found it worked. Since that day the stunt has been a regular daily thrill on the circus lot. Occasionally, just to make it look more thrilling, Elder takes the hurdle over the automobile in Roman-rider style—that is, standing with one foot on one horse's back and the other foot on the back of the second horse. Elder says this stunt is a swell cure for a case of over-tired nerves.

charged with killing Steve Ditomasso in Struthers. She testified that she saw Natalie kill Ditomasso. She asked Judge David G. Jenkins to give her protection from Natalie's friends. She has been in the custody of Mary Love, county jail matron, all week.

Ralph De Marco, who testified in Natalie's first trial that he saw him kill Ditomasso, repudiated his testimony, and said he did not see Natalie attack the dead man. He admitted being afraid of Natalie's friends, and also being afraid that Assistant Prosecutor Ralph Turner might act to prosecute him for perjury.
